Publisher Changes

As you work to manage your collections, there are some publisher changes you may want to be aware of:

- Australian Academic Press's journals were acquired by Cambridge University Press (CUP) in February 2012; Portico is now receiving the 19 titles committed to the archive through our agreement with CUP
- American Geophysical Union (AGU) has entered into a publishing partnership with Wiley-Blackwell; the titles formerly supplied to Portico by AGU will be committed through our relationship with Wiley-Blackwell
- Royal Society of Medicine's journal program has been acquired by Sage; Portico is now receiving the 28 titles committed to the archive through our agreement with Sage
